BIG STRIKES.

The New York Trouble Comes to a Close.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. NEW YORK, March 5 .- After the telegrams closed yesterday afternoon, a body of New York police, commanded by Inspector Murray, acted as convoy to a Crosstown Line street car. The tracks were blocked at various points by coal piles, wagons, and cars which had been upset, and other material, which the police were forced to remove amid the hoots and yells of thousands of people. Twice the officers charged the mob, using their batons freely, with the result that several persons were injured and many others arrested.

New York, March 5. - The grand "tie up" of all the surface lines of the city, ordered by the executive board of the Empire Protective associations, took place this morning and not a car is running. President Lamb, of the company, has decided not to do anything until he calls the directors together during the day, when it will be decided whether to make an effort to run cars. Everything is quiet. Under the existing city ordinance no man can drive a car in the city without a license. The number of these licenses is limited, and the organizations are complete. The various companies will be compelled to run at least one car a day over their lines or forfeit their charters. If an attempt is made to-day to prevent this the city will be compelled to exercise its fullest power or be held liable for damages. At least 1,500 men ceased labor this morning.

One of the leading strikers said that the men who committed violence yesterday were not connected with the strikers in any way.

SETTLED.

Police Superintendent Murray has been notified that matters have been adjusted so that the men will resume work at two o'clock this afternoon on all lines in this city and Brooklyn.

THE TERMS.

The terms of settlement proposed by the Atlantic avenue railroad, of Brooklyn, is to pay men at the rate of $2 per day, for twelve hours as a day's work, for conductors and drivers, including a half hour for dinner, and after the cars are running submit all questions of differences to Commissioner O'Donnell. The New York roads adopted the same and the executive committee accepted I have seen him on a street car perusing this promptly,

The first car reached the City Hall stand at 2:30 o'clock and was covered with brand new brooms.

THE COMMISSIONERS

ALBANY, N. Y., March 5 .-- The railroad commissioners in the different parts of the state will go to New York to-day to hold a meeting this evening because of the street railroad troubles.

DE Soro, Mo., March 5.-A general order by the executive board of the Knights of Labor, of the Gould southwest system, has been issued, boycotting all Texas and Pacific and New Orleans and Pacific cars, on account of the troubles at Fort Worth, and the order was put into effect here. No violence or intimidation were used, but as the cars came in, the men were earnestly requested not to handle them further and keep them side-tracked.

understand from an interview with Mr. Whitley, published yesterday, that arbitration is out of the question, and while nothing is said, it is very probable that a boycott will be ordered. All trains are watched for incoming workmen, but few have arrived. There is perfect order, and no indications of violence. The counsel of the men is against it. No more men are out, and all shops in the city except Whitley's are in sympathy with the workmen.

DR. PHILLIP BLADE.

A Physician Whose Practice Is Extensive.

Dr. Phillip Blade is a most successful physician. His patients come from Ohio, Michigan, and all parts of Indiana. His office at No. 31 East Main street is a sort of heaven for invalids, and a doctor cannot hold such a practice unless he is skilled. Dr. Blade has been a practitioner for more than thirty years. He has studied in Germany and in France, where he graduated in 1865. He went from France to Germany, and practiced in Baden-Baden, one of the most notable watering places in Germany. During his stay there he was informed that he had been honored with two gold medals and badges of honor for services rendered during the wars, from the sovereigns of Darmstadt and Baden, and these facts medals, which he has in his possession, and which our reporter saw and took notice of. In 1868 Dr. Blade came to America, where he immediately secured his United States license, which facts certainly prove that the doctor is a physician of long practice and experience. The doctor has surmounted the enmity of rivals, and is enjoying the confidence of the people of three states.

JOHN KELLY.

The Remarkable Career of "the Best Abused Man Living."

A Born Leader-Begins Work as office Boy to the Elder Bennett--From a Mason and Grate Setter he Rises > to a Seat in Congress. [Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, March 2.—This was the sign which hung from a modest two-story house in Mott street, New York, in 1844. It indicated the humble beginning of one who, twelve vears later, was a member of congress, and who, for the thirty years since then, has been one of the most prominent political figures of this city. His name is familiar to everybody, and his features have been portrayed so frequently by the cariaturists that even children will recognize it. I know for a fact of the editor of an illustrated paper, who at one time instructed his artists to remember that when timely subjects did not present themselves, a cartoon on John Kelly was always in order, and very paper, and watched the merry twinkle in his eve when he found a humorous repre sentation of himself. John's strong characteristic was his unostentatiousness, and fo that reason people know very little about his Meeting Mr. J. Fairfax McLaughlin on Broadway the other day we talked about the old "boss." Mr. McLaughlin had been associated with Mr. Kelly for some thirty years and has published his life. He said: "Yes; I probably know more of Mr. Kelly than any living man. He was born in New York city, April 20, 1822. His father died when he was years old. When The New York Herald was in its infancy, young Kelly walked in to the one day and asked the elder Bennett if he wanted an office boy. Bennett was a good judge of character and quick in deciding. He talked with the youth a few minutes, then told him to go to work. He became a great favorite with Bennett, and when at length he grew older and determined on learning a trade, so as to better support the large family that was depending on him Mr. Bennett offered him strong inducements to remain, and on parting with him predicted that he would succeed anywhere. The elder Bennett was as strong a friend of Kelly's as the present Bennett is a bitter enemy. Kelly learned the trade of soapstone cutting and grate setting, at which he afterward made a considerable fortune. He proved to be a remarkably shrewd business man and his faith in the future of New York city was so great that with every $200 or $300 he would get, he bought a lot up town, these lots are worth to-day from $5,000 to $10,000, and Mr. Kelly is reported to be a millionaire. Though his charity has been distributed most secretly, it is estimated that he has dispensed a quarter of a million dollars in that way. When a young man John was notable as an athlete. The notorious John Morrison said of Kelly that he had the build of an ideal pugilist. Though the cartoonists of Labor organizations in the city had a have always represented him as a dumpy meeting this afternoon for the purpose man, he is nearly six feet in height and weighs about 240 pounds. He ran with of organizing an executive board. To the "fire laddies" in his early days and made before that you could not buy the board of aldermen, and if it was not for John Kelly's severity you could buy it now.

JOHN KELLY'S RESIDENCE, NEW YORK. In 1854 he was elected to the thirty-fifth congress. He resigned his seat before his last term was completed to take the office of sheriff of this county, to which he had been elected. It was while in congress that Gen. Cass, President Buchanan's secretary of state, spoke of him as "Honest John Kelly," which he has been commonly called since. In 1868 he was chosen the candidate for the mayoralty in opposition to Bill Tweed's Tammany Hall candidate, but an awful burden of do are proved by his credentials and the mestic affliction in the loss of his wife and son compelled him to withdraw and take his two daughters-all that was left of his family-to Europe for his own health as well as theirs. He remained away three years; and during his absence New York city was given over wholly to the plunder of the Tweed ring. Prominent men like Mr. Tilden, Seymour, Herritt and Belmont sought Mr. Kelly to help them in this crisis. He had vowed never to again enter politics. Their importunities continued for a year, till at last he entered the fight, and while Mr. Tilden and Charles O'Connor attacked the Tweed ring in the legislature and in the courts, Mr. Kelly had a hand to hand tussle with them in Tammany Hail, their citadel, and routed them, as is well known. This gave him a prestige which he has held since. An idea of the tremendous power this ring wielded may be obtained from the fact that they gave employment to 12,000 persons and disbursed $30,000,000 annually. In 1876 Mr. Kelly was appointed comptroller of the city, and not only stopped the debt of the city in creasing, something unprecedented, but actually reduced it $12,000,000 during his term of office. Mr. Kelly's career for the past ten years is more familiar to the reader. In pri-vate life he is the most convivial of compan-ions. Temperate, witty, a good story teller and possessed of a flexible baritone voice which he has often enlivened political In 1876 Mr. Kelly re-married, and has two children, a boy and girl, to brighten his home.

8. H. Horgan, Individual life, in all its forms, also appears in the Bible. This book has been found fault with because its heroes and saints were not perfect; be-Abraham and Peter lied, and Samuel killed his enemy in cold blood, and Elijah massawork together. But that is life-good men have their faults, often grave ones. The Bible gives no picture of perfect men, save in a single spotless example. It shows us the world as it is-shadows darkening the brightest scenes, sunshine illuminating the blackest. The type of lovely womanly fidelity appears in Ruth, who was not an Israelite, but a Moabite. A Roman centurion comes forward as a type of faith; a woman of Phoenicia as an example of confiding hope; Balaam, the "vates" of some far-off Syrian tribe, is given a high place in the goodly fellowship of the prophets; Melchizedek, a Bedouin sheikh and priest, is reverenced by Abraham, the friend of God. Thus the Bible, like Jesus, goes among publicans and sinners, and honors goodness wherever it finds it .- Rev. James Freeman Clarke.

Panoramic photographs in connection with military surveying and the like are now taken by a simple French instrument called the cylindrograph. WASHINGTON.

Pension Bill Passes the House-Education in the Senate.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL. Washington, March 5 .- In the senate resterday amendments to the educational bill offered by Messrs. Dolph and Logan were defeated. Mr. Logan then moved another amendmedt, already suggested by him, making the appropriation for building school houses, which was adopted and the debate for the day closed. A resolution offered by Mr. Hale was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the navy for a variety of information concerning the Dolphin, Boston, Atlanta, and Chicago. The education bill was then taken up. An amendment offered by Mr. Dolph, was agreed to, requiring promptly from each state full information, each year, as to the number of school districts in such state; also, relative to the number of white and colored children.

An amendment offered by Mr. Ingalls was agreed to, requiring that the annual report from each state shall show wages paid common school teachers An amendment was offered by Logan and agreed to, providing that the secretary of the interior be charged with the proper administration of this law through the commissioner of education, and these two officers are authorized, with the approval of the president, to make all needful rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of the bill to carry out those provisions.

Another amendment by Dolph was greed to substituting the census of 1890 for that of 1880 as a basis of distribution for moneys of the bill, after the census figures of 1890 shall have been received. The figures of 1880 to operate till then.

TAKING TO IT.

J. M. McCullough on the Pennsylvania Relief Fund.

Vice-president McCullough, of the Pennsylvania lines, who came down from Grand Rapids with Mayor Muhler, was asked for the latest developments respecting the Pennsylvania railroad employes' relief fund. He said that "the scheme was announced a little prematurely, and that it contained originally some objectionable features. When you make it obligatory upon employes to unite with any association you arouse that in human nature which shrings from coercion. There are 12,000 or 15,-000 employes of the company east of Pittsburg. Now that the compulsory clause has been removed, the men are taking more kindly to the scheme, and I have no doubt that it will ultimately succeed. I have not attempted to introduce it west of Pittsburg, but this will be an easy matter when it is in successful operation on the lines east." It will be remembered that the fund in question is of an insurance nature, the company and its employes contributing to the creation of a fund from which sick and death benefits are to be paid.

A SERMON.

Horatio Seymour and Mr. Delavan.

During my first administration, said the late Horatio Seymour, Mr. Delavan (who built the Delavan house in Albany), the great apostle of temperance in his day, came to me to express his dissatisfaction with the existing statutes which punished men for selling liquor under certain circumstances, making them amenable, and to urge more posi-tive legislation. I said to him: "Now, suppose you could get a perfectly effective temperance law that could be executed, and that by way of supplementing or adding to its efficiency you could put the man who had been intemperate under circumstances where he would labor industriously and regularly, engage in no evil conversation, go to church twice on Sunday, and, indeed, be withdrawn from other temptations. Would you like such an arrangement?" "Yes," said he, "that is a more perfect system of law than I supposed could be made." I then replied: "I will show you just such a system in operation. If you will go down to Sing Sing prison, I will show you hundreds of men living under that exact system. They cannot drink, cannot in-dulge in other vices, in evil conversation or communication, are delighted to have the chaplain talk with them, regular in habits, go to church twice on Sunday; but the whole system is one of coercion. Now, if your house was robbed, and you knew that a man

Rev. S. H. Troyer, of New Albany, Ind., states as follows how he saved himself from an attack which threatened serious

"On the 7th of June, 1884, I was taken with rheumatic fever, and for five weeks was not free from it. It then settled in my left foot, where it remained for about four weeks. Then it moved to my hips. shoulders, neck and collar bone, where it stayed until driven out by Athlophoros. Previous to the use of that remedy I had tried the skill of five physicians, from whom I obtained no relief. Then I resorted to the use of different remedies external and internal, but I continued to grow worse all the time until the 1st of October, when my druggist recommended Athlophoros. I had but little faith when I took the first bottle. At this time I was so helpless that my wife had to dress me, wash my face and assist me out of bed. I could not sleep more than from thirty to forty-five minutes at a time, so intense was my pain. "My first dose of Athlophoros was taken at two o'clock in the afternoon, and I took two more soon after. The first dose gave me much relief, and the second eased me so greatly that I was enabled to talk freely and with comfort to my family and friends. The third dose enabled me to sleep four and a half hours without wak-I continued the use of Athlophoros until fourteen bottles in all had been taken. By this time my health was so much improved that I left off the medicine. That was in December, 1884, and I am now quite well.'

Rev. Wm. Cool, of Denver, Ind., says: "I used only one bottle of Athlophoros. and I think it a good medicine. I consider that I derived much benefit from it."

"Athlophoros," says Mr. D. P. Sheets, of Mooresville, Ind., "gave me great satisfaction in a case of neuralgia, and I can heartily recommend it to others as doing all that is claimed for it."

Mr. J. A. Wilson, the photographer of New Albany, Ind., whose offices are at Nos. 6 and 8 Main street, tells of one of these cases. His story follows:

"I had rheumatism but it disappeared after using only one bottle of Athlophoros. It was in my arms and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a good deal when a friend, coming into my gallery one morning, asked me what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. He told me of Athlophoros as a cure for neuralgia and rheumatism, and it struck me very forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to. I bought a bottle on the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago, and have not had one ache or pain from rheumatism since.

Mr. Hiram F. Sides, of Fort Branch, Ind., says of his wife's cure:

"Her suffering from neuralgia was intense, and we concluded to try Athlophoros. Almost from the first dose I could see that she was improving, and two bottles effected a permanent cure, so that she feels no effects of her once dreaded disease. I tried it for rheumatism and soon found relief, one bottle curing me. I shall take great pleasure in recommending Athlophoros to my neighbors."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.

Ir the Bair educational bill becomes a law it will take $77,000,000 out of the public treasury. It is proposed that this immense sum shall be divided among the respective states, in proportion to population, for school purposes. Those who have never done anything to build up the democratic party are sometimes found to be needlessly apprehensive of its downfall. The democratic party is of much more importance to the country than any man belonging to it, be he high or low, and it will live and administer the affairs of this blessed land when all who are now on the face of the earth shall have returned to dust.

CONGRESSMAN CURTIN has introduced in the house a bill looking to the construction of a railroad from the southern boundary of the United States to the Argentine Republic and Chili, in South America, a distance of 4,500 miles. Whoever is lucky enough to ride with them can see what would be a sight of a lifetime to any one of millions of American citizens, when you think that out of 50,000,000 of people, probably not over 2,000,000 have ever visited Washington. Chief Justice Waite, and Justices Miller, Matthews, and Blatchford will sit ranged along on one side of the car, and make it a special amusemess for the trip to pass up fares. The Chief Justice and Justice Blatchford always keep a sharp eye on Stanley Matthews as the nickels pass him, and their comments rather reflect apon his integrity in the handling of small amounts of money. The other night I happened to ride up with the bunch of judges, and the incidents of the, trip were decidedly interesting. A small boy came into the car. While exercising his right to put in 3 cents instead of 5, on account of his infancy, Judge Miller picked him up and pretended to desire to put him into the box as security for the other 2 cents. Three times the car stopped to take on fat, shiny old negro women, all of them laden with heavy market-baskets, filled with linen, and with each of them the Chief Justice and Justice Blatchford competed for the honor of passing up Justice Waite was one of the first to give the fare. THE pension bill before congress appropriates $75,754,200, or about fifteen millions more than was appropriated for the current year. This will seem strange to the innocent. credulous unsuspecting republican voters who have been made believe for years that if the democratic party was permitted to come into power the pensions of all the union soldiers would be stopped at once. What must they now think of the leaders of their party for thus deceiving them? A democratic house of representatives is doing more for the soldiers, their widows and orphans than ever was done for them when the republicans had charge of governmental affairs.

The Root of the Evil.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exectly what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, ty acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood purifying qualities. Sold by all drug-

BY BEN: PERLEY POORE.

Gen. Grant was fond of a good horse When a lad he had been noted as a successful breaker of colts, and his daring horsemanship in the riding school of the military academy is even now spoken of by the cadets with pride. Driving into Washington one day from his home on Georgetown Heights, a butcher's cart drawn by a gray horse came up alongside at a fast gait. The General spoke to his horse, Cincinnatus, expecting easily to give the butcher's nag the go-by, but although they tried to "fight it out on that line," they were beaten in trotting one block and distanced before they reached the second cross street.

From that moment the conqueror of the Rebellion determined to own the horse that had out-trotted Cincinnatus. and a friend succeeded in purchasing him for $350. Thenceforth, instead of plodding along with a load of meat, the gray nag, christened Butcher Boy, was harnessed to the light wagon of Gen. Grant. It was while driving him one spring afternoon on the outskirts of Washington that the General was chased by two mounted policemen, stopped, and arrested for driving faster than the law permitted. The next day he appeared at the station-house and paid the $10 fine imposed.

Gen. Grant's difficulty with Mr Sumner began when the President did not consult the Senator about the formation of his Cabinet. The breach was gradually widened, and in time the Senator became completely estranged from his old friend and asso ciate in the Senate, Secretary Fish. When Mr. Motley was removed from the English mission he insisted upon regarding it as a personal insult, which he sought to repay by his opposition to the acquisition of San Domingo. Gen. Grant endeavored to appease the offended Senator, and on the evening of the day on which the San Domingo treaty was sent to the Senate, he called at Mr. Sumner's house.

Gen. Grant found the Senator at his dinner-table with Col. Forney and the writer, and was invited to take a seat with them. After some preliminary conversation Gen. Grant began to talk about San Domingo, but he did not have the treaty or any memorandum of it with him. He dwelt especially upon the expenditures of Gen. Babcock at San Domingo of a large sum taken from a secret service fund for promoting intercourse with the West India Islands, which Mr. Seward, when Secretary of State, had prevailed upon Representative Thad. Stevens to have inserted in an appropriation bill during the war, and the President impressed Mr. Sumner with the idea that he feared an attack in Congress on the way much ferent textures, and thence sent down that money had been spent.

Mr. Sumner unquestionably thought services in defending the expenditure of Gen. Babcock of $100,000 in cash and $50,000 in a light battery purchased at New York. The President meant, as giving the best rising-flour and the Col. Forney and the writer thought, the richest in albuminoids. treaty for the acquisition of the Dominican Republic. The President and the Senator misunderstood each other. After a while Gen. Grant promised to send Gen. Babcock to call on the Senator the next day with copies of the papers, and left. As Mr. Sumner escorted him to the door he told him that he was a Republican, and supported by a Republican administration, and that he should sustain the administration in its course if he possibly could after he had examined the papers. He meant the expenditure of Gen. Babcock, but the President meant the treaty.

The next morning Gen. Babcock called on Senator Sumner with a copy of the treaty, which he began to read. "aide-de-camp of His Excellency Gen. Ulysses S. Grant," before Mr. Sumner showed signs of disapprobation. When Gen. Babcock proceeded and not. read the stipulation that "His Excellency Gen. Grant, President of the own pockets," he suggested, mildly. United States, promises perfectly to use all his influence in order that the idea of annexing the Dominican Republic to the United States may acquire President of the United States should dozen!" be made a lobbyist to bring about annexation by Congress. Some of Mr. Sumner's friends used to tell him that he should have gone at once to Gen. Grant and have told him that he should lose a handkerchief. You see, George, oppose the treaty, and that he had de- I have to stuff it under my basque, and clared his hostility to it to Gen. Bab- it won't stay there. Oh, dear, it's cock in unmistaken terms.

In the Senate sycophants who "carried water on both shoulders," and men who always delight in fomenting quarrels. embittered Mr. Sumner against the President. One had served his country well in the camp, while the other had performed equally invaluable services in the Senate: one was a statesman, the other was a goldier. What did not ap- malica, pear to be wrong to the General, the Senator regarded as criminal. Conscious of the value of his services in saving the Union, Gen. Grant accepted with gratitude the voluntary offerings of grateful citizens; but Senator Sumner, who had seen too much of political life and of politicians, knew too well that those who make gifts to public men expect favors in return, and that every public man should be inflexibly opposed to the reception of presents. Remarks by him about the President, and remarks by the President about him, were carried to and fro by mischief-makers like the shuttle of a loom, and he found himself placed at the head of a clique of disappointed Republicans, who were determined to prevent, if possible, the reelection of Gen. Grant to the Presi-

Henry Wilson, then Vice President of the United States, endeavored to restore harmony, and said in a letter to Gen Grant: "Your administration is menaced by great opposition, and it must needs possess a unity among the people and in Congress. The head of a great party, the President of the United States has much to forget and to forgive, but he can afford to be magnanimous and forgiving. I want to see the President and Congress in harmony, and the Republican party united and victorious; to accomplish this we must all be just, charitable, and forgiving."

PATENT" FLOUR MAKING PROCESS. The first suggestion of the improved olan originated with a French scientist. Mr. Lacroix, a manufacturer of Faribault, Minnesota, first brought the idea to this country, but the process as originally used has been greatly improved upon by the millers of the northwest. There are, in fact, several processes, but in principle they are identical. Chief objects sought are the gradual breaking and bruising of the grain so as to keep the broken particles rough and "alive;" the repeated reduction of the middlings, or that part of the grain lying immediately below the husk—this, formerly rejected, is now made to yield the best flour; also the separation of every part of the flour from the bran, and, finally, the careful blending of the flour obtained from the several reduc-

We give briefly the detail of the process in one of the Minneapolis mills. The wheat, cleaned by blasts, is separated into lots of similar sizes; the fuzzy tails are removed by ending-stones. The grain is then passed through corrugated, chilled iron rollers, their corrugations ranging from eight to forty to the square inch, which bruise the grain without grinding it. This is on the ground floor. The bruised grain is then raised to the bolting machines, where it is passed through gauze-cloths of difbetween finer corrugated rollers running at a speed of from 160 to 300 revoluthat Gen. Grant had come to enlist his tions per minute. These processes of reduction are repeated six or seven times, the third giving more flour than the first two reductions, and the fifth

Very important results have been accomplished by the introduction of the "patent" process. The amount of flour yielded by a bushel of wheat has been increased fully 10 per cent.; the flour made is said to be more nutritious, as well as more palatable, and spring wheat, the variety most abundantly produced in the west (whose flour, being much inferior to that of winter wheat made by the old process, was formerly held at a much lower price), is greatly increased in value, as by the "patent" process it is found to give the better flour.—Inter Ocean.

A POCKETLESS GENERATION. "Oh, my, what have I done with my handkerchief!" cried pretty Miss Ethel, but he had not gotten beyond the pre- | in dismay, as she started home from amble, in which Babcock was styled church. "Didn't I put it in your pocket, George? I must have."

The indications for the lower lake region, as reported by the weather bureau at Washington to THE SENTINEL are as follows: Fair weather, followed in western portion by local rains and snows, warmer in west, stationary temperature in eastern portion.

"Sheriff Boyle, of DeKalb county, says that while on his way to Michigan City, Kessler owned up that he killed Harner just as he told the Lima officer he did, by shooting him from behind. If the jury had known this in time, there is not the least doubt but they would have made him stretch hemp," says the Auburn Courier.

Through the intercession of Congressmissioner will send 2,500 wall-eyed pike stock the lakes there. The lake trout is a most desirable fish, for the reason that it grows rapidly and attains a great size -from twenty-five to thirty pounds in weight. Its flesh is said to be of excellent quality.

"Charles A. Munson, ex-sheriff of Allen county, was in the city Wednesday, looking after his political interests. Charles has aspirations to be the next auditor of state and would like for his democratic friends to give him a boost at the next state convention. In the absence of a fire side candidate, we know of no man whom we would rather support than Mr. Munson. He is as genial a fellow one has the pleasure of shaking by the hand once in a year, besides his past record shows that he makes a pleasant and capable officer. His chances for the nomination are good,' says the Warsaw Union.

The visit of the McCaull Opera Company in the "Black Hussar" will be most pleasant. There is but one change in the very strong cast from its inaugural production at Philadelphia, and that is the abscence of Miss Lilly Post, who is under a lengthened treatment for a threatened loss of voice. Her place is excellently filled by Mlle. Louise Lablache, a daughter of Mapleson's great contralto, Mme. Eugenie Lablache. Miss Marie Jansen, Mark Smith, De-Wolf Hopper, and George Boniface, jr., will all appear in their respective roles, which they have made famous. The opera has never been presented here.

STEPPING HIGHER.

Mr. Hayes Will Probably be Appointed Here.

Mr. D. F. More. who has held the position of secretary of the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association, in this city, for a number of years, in fact, almost ever since it has been an organization, has received a call to enter the regular Y. M. C. A. work, as assistant secretary of the state of Wisconsin, with headquarters at Milwaukee. His salary for the first year will $1,200, with bright chances for a raise the second. His salary here was $90 per month. Mr. More has the reputation of being one of the best organizers in the Y. M. C. A. work and it was the intention of the managers of that organization to only keep him here long enough to place this association on a firm basis. Our people are familiar with his work. He has built stands equal with any railroad association in the United States. No association anywhere can boast of a greater average attendance. We are sorry to loose Mr. More from our city. He has helped to turn the tide for a Christian work that is Bluffton, burned a few nights ago and being felt in every part of our city. He is a man who is never afraid to stand up for Christ and His followers. He has labored hard with the railroad men and through his teachings and gospel meetings in their homes, many have been converted and are living a new life. He and his good wife will always be remembered in Fort Wayne. It is thought that Mr. Richard M. Hays, mail agent on the Muncie road, will be asked to take Mr. More's place. Mr. Hayes is well known by most of our people, and no better man could be placed in charge.

From a friend of Father Mark, it is learned that some time on Monday night a sneak-thief entered the pastoral residence and stole $575. "Michael Strogoff."

The "Michael Strogoff" company drew a large house at the Temple last evening. The play is one of heroism and draws strongly upon the sympathies of all. The battle scene and the burning of Irkutsk, with the hardships and triumphs of Michael Strogoff, delight an audience. The play itself is good and the drummer and drilled soldiers were very fine, but why the performance should be disgraced by the in troduction of a lot of homely looking ballet dancers, who appeared more for the purpose of showing their limbs than they did their acting, we can not understand. It seems that it requires something more than acting at this day, to draw a big crowd, and a low necked dress, cut off at the waist, is a better card than a high priced actor.

"A Mountain Pink."

"A Mountain Pink" was presented at the Academy last night. Miss Laura man Lowry, the United States fish com- Dainty, in the title role, is the central figure around which the play and lake trout up to Steuben county to revolves. Her portrayal of the uneducated, simple, but noble Carolina girl-a wild flower growing in a barren desert—was as true to nature as it was charming. Miss Dainty has surrounded herself with an excellent company. It would be flattery to call everyone a star, but the fact is undeniable that her support is better as a whole than that of any other star who has appeared in this city this season. In this, Miss Dainty shows excellent judgment and good business tact. "A Mountain Pink" will be presented at each entertainment during the week.

BOYLE IS FIXED.

Mr. More Going to Wisconsin and The Murderer of Dan Casy Will The Shape of the Grand Rapids Remain in State's Prison for Life.

The Indiana supreme court yesterday affirmed the decision of the Allen county circuit court in sentencing Wm. Boyle to the penitentiary for life, for murder. The case was once before in that court, Boyle having received the death sentence in the first trial, which was reversed above. The last appeal was on various technical points of law, and Judges Zollars and Mitchell dissented from the opinion, which was written by Judge Elliott. Messrs. Colerick & Oppenheim have heroically worked for their client, Boyle, and the fact that Judges Zollars and Mitchell are with them shows how near to success they were. Prosecutor Dawson, of course, feels prouds of his victory, and justly so, as his record is one of the cleanest and most successup the organization in this city until it ful in criminal the prosecuting history of Indiana. The decision is as follows:

(1.) In a former opinion in this case it was held that part of the dying declaration of the deceased, wherein, in replying to the question, "What reason, if any, had the man for shooting you?" he said, "Not any that I know of: he said he would shoot my damned heart out,' was not the expression of an incompetent opinion, but was a statement of a fact and was admissible in evidence. This ruling was adhered to. Zollars, J. dissents in an elaborate opinion, in which Mitchell, J., concurs. (2.) The accused, when on the witness stand, gave an account of his movements upon a day named, and it was proper to go fully into subject upon cross examination and the state was not confined to the particular period of time designated in the questions asked on direct examination. Instructions are to be considered as a whole, and thus construed there was no error. (4.) Crimes confessed by an accused on the stand may be considered as affecting his credibility. (5.) The prosecuting attorney in his argument, said: Will you believe this man who has told so many lies, and who has just seen the shadows of the gallows?" Held no error.

The above opinion is from Judges Elliott, Houk and Niblack and their decision sustains in every way the rulings of Judge Edward O'Rourke in this important trial. The Fort Wayne jurist is always clear in his points and the decisions of the high court tend to place him on a level with the great judges of the state.

BIG STRIKES.

The New York Trouble Comes to a Close.

By Telegraph to The Sentines New York, March 5.—After the tele grams closed yesterday afternoon, a body of New York police, commanded by Inspector Murray, acted as convoy to a Crosstown Line street car. The tracks were blocked at various points by coal piles, wagons, and cars which had been upset, and other material, which the police were forced to remove amid the hoots and yells of thousands of people, Twice the officers charged the mobusing their batons freely, with the result that several persons were injured and many others arrested.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The grand "file up" of all the surface lines of the city, ordered by the executive board of the Empire Protective associations, took place this morning and not a car is running. President Lamb, of the company, has decided not to do anything until he calls the directors together during the day, when it will be decided whether to make an effort to run cars. Everything is quiet. Under the existing city ordinance no man can drive a car in the city without a license. The number of these licenses is limited, and the organizations are complete. The various companies will be compelled to run at least one car a day over their lines or forfeit their charters. If an attempt is made to-day to prevent this the city will be compelled to exercise its fullest power or be held liable for damages. At least 1,500 men censed labor this morning.

One of the leading strikers said that the men who committed violence yesterday were not connected with the strikers

SETTLED.

Police Superintendent Murray has been notified that matters have been adjusted so that the men will resume work at two o'clock this afternoon on all lines in this city and Brooklyn.

THE TERMS.

The terms of settlement proposed by the Atlantic avenue railroad, of Brooklyn, is to pay men at the rate of 32 per day, for twelve hours as a day's work, for conductors and drivers, including a half hour for dinner, and after the cars are running submit all questions of differences to Commissioner O'Donnell. The New York roads adopted the same and the executive committee accepted promptly,

The first car renched the City Hall stand at 2:30 o'alook and was covered with brand new brooms.

THE COMMISSIONERS.

Athany, N. Y., March 5 .- The ruilroad commissioners in the different parts of the state will go to New York to-day to hold a meeting this evening because of the street railroad troubles.

understand from an interview with Mr. Whitley, published yesterday, that arbitration is out of the question, and while nothing is said, it is very probable that a boycott will be ordered. All trains are watched for incoming workmen, but few have arrived. There is perfect order, and no indications of violence. The counsel of the men is against it. No more men are out, and all shops in the city except Whitley's are in sympathy with the workmen.

DR. PHILLIP BLADE.

A Physician Whose Practice Is Extensive.

Dr. Phillip Blade is a most successful physician. His patients come from Ohio, Michigan, and all parts of Indiana. His office at No. 31 East Main street is a sort of heaven for invalids, and a doctor cannot hold such a practice unless he is skilled. Dr. Blade has been a practitioner for more than thirty years. He has studied in Germany and in France, where he graduated in 1865. He went from France to Germany, and practiced in Baden-Baden, one of the most notable watering places in Germany. During his stay there he was informed that he had been honored with two gold medals and badges of honor for services rendered during the wars, from the sovereigns of Darmstadt and Baden, und these facts are proved by his eredentials and the medals, which he has in his possession, and which our reporter saw and took notice of, In 1868 Dr. Blade came to America, where he immediately secured his United States license, which facts certainly prove that the doctor is a physician of long practice and experience. The doctor has surmounted the enmity of rivals, and is enjoying the confidence of the people of three states.

JOHN RELLY'S RESIDENCE, NEW YORK

John Relly's Reshence, New York.

In 1854 he was elected to the thirty-fich congress. He resigned his seat before his last term was completed to take the office of sheriff of this country, to which he had been elected. It was while in congress that Gen. Cass, President Duchanan's secretary of state, spoke of him as "Honest John Kelly," which he lus item commonly called since. In 1863 he was chosen the candidate for the mayoralty in opposition to Bill Tweed's Tammany Hall candidate, but an awifel burden of domestic adilution in the loss of his wife and son compelled him to withdraw and take his two daughters—all that was left of his family—to Europe for his own health as well as theirs. He remained away three years; and during his absence New York city was given over wholly to the plunder of the Tweed ring. Prominent men like Mr. Tillien, Stymour, Hewitt and Belmont sought Mr. Kelly to help then in this crisis. He had yowed never to again enter politics. Their importanties continued for a year, till at last he entered the fight, and while Mr. Tillien and Charles O'Connor attacked the Tweed ring in the legislature and in the courte, Mr. Kelly had a hand to hand truste with them in Tammany Hail, their citadel, and routed them, as is well known. This gave him a prestige which he has held since. An lifen of the trumendous power this ring wielded may be obtained from the fact that they gave employment to 12,000 persons and disbursed $90,000,000 annually. In 1876 Mr. Kelly was appointed comparaller of the city, and nut only stopped the lobt of the city and nut only stopped the lobt of the city and nut only stopped the lobt of the city and nut only stopped the lobt of the city and nut only stopped the lobt of the city increasing, something unprecedented, but acta-sly reduced it $12,000,000 during his term of office. Mr. Kelly's cereer for the past fer years is more familiar to the reader. To private life he is the most cervivial of comparions. Temporate, witty, a good story teller and possessed of a flerible baricone v

Individual life, in all its forms, also appears in the Bible. This book has been found fault with because its horoes and saints were not perfect; be-cause Abraham and Peter lief, and Samuel killed his enemy cold blood, and Elijah massa cred the prophets of Baal, and the apostles quarreled and were unable to work together. But that is life-good men have their faults, often grave ones. The Bible gives no picture of perfect men, save in a single apotloss example. It shows us the world as it is—shadows darkening the brightest scenes, sunshine illuminating the blackest. The type of levely womanly fidelity appears in Ruth, who was not an Israelite, but a Moabite. A Roman conturion comes forward as a type of faith; a woman of Phoenicia as an example of confiding hope; Balanin, the "vates" of some far-off Syrian tribe, is given a high place in the goodly fellowship of the prophets; Melehizedek, a Bedouin sheikh and pricat, is reverenced by Abraham, the friend of God. Thus the Bible, like Jesus, goes among publicans and sinners, and honors goodness wherever it finds it.—Rev. James Freeman Clarks.

TAKING TO IT.

J. M. McCullough on the Pennsylvania Relief Fund.

Vice-president McCullough, of the Pennsylvania lines, who came down from Grand Rapids with Mayor Muhler, was asked for the latest developments re-specting the Pennsylvania railroad employes' relief fund. He said that "the scheme was announced a little prematurely, and that it contained originally some objectionable features. When you make it obligatory upon employes to unite with any association you arouse that in human nature which shrin-s from coercion. There are 12,000 or 15,-000 employes of the company east of Pittsburg. Now that the compulsory clause has been removed, the men are taking more kindly to the scheme, and I have no doubt that it will ultimately succeed. I have not attempted to introduce it west of Pittsburg, but this will he an easy matter when it is in successful operation on the lines east." It will be remembered that the fund in question is of an insurance nature, the company and its employes contributing to the creation of a fund from which sick and death benefits are to be paid.

A SERMON.

Horatic Seymour and Mr. Dela-

During my first administration, said t During my first administration, sain the lite Howiton Seymour, Mr. Delactan (who built the Delactan house in Albuny), the great aposite of temperance in his day, came to me to express his dissuitisfaction with the existing statutes which punished men for selling liquor mader certain circumstances, making them amenable, and to urge more positive legislation. I said to lifm: "Now, suppose you could get a perfectly effective temparance law that could be excented, and temperative law that could be executed, and that by way of supplementing or adding to its efficiency you could put the man who had been intemperate under circumstances its officiency you could not the man who had been intemperate under circumstances where he would labor industriously and regularly, engage in no will conversation, go to church twice on Sunday, and, indeed, be withdrawn from other temptations. Would you like such an arrangement?" "Yes," said he, "that is a more perfect system of law than I supposed could be made," I then replied: "I will show you just such a system to operation. If you will go down to Sing Sing prison, I will show you lumdreds of men living under that exact system. They cannot drink, cannot induge in other vices, in avil conversation or communication, are delighted to have the chaplain talk with them, regular is habits, go to church twice on Sunday; but the whole system is one of coercion. Now, if your house was rebleed, and you knew that a man was in the neighborhood who had been living under your ideal system, he would be the first man whom you would arrest."

On the 7th of June, 1884, I was taken with rheumatic lever, and for five weeks was not free from it. It then settled in was not free from it. It then settled in ny left foot, where it remained for ubout four weeks. Then it moved to my hips, shoulders, neek and collar bone, where it stayed until driven out by Athlophoros. Previous to the use of that remedy I had tried the skill of five physicians, from whom I obtained no nellef. Then I resorted to the use of different remedies external and internal, but I continued to grow worse all the time until the 1st of Oxfober, when my druggist recommended Athlophoros. I had but little faith when I took the first bottle. At this time I was so helpless that my wife had to dress me, wash my face and assist me out of bed. Mr. J. A. Wilson, the photographer of New Albany, Ind., whose offices are at Nos. 6 and 8 Main street, tells of one of these cases. His story follows:

"I had rheumatism but it disappeared after using only one bottle of Athlophoros. It was in my arms and I had sharp, shooting pains. I was suffering and complaining a good deal when a friend, coming into my gallery one morning, asked use what the trouble was. I said it was rheumatism. He told me of Athlophoros as a cure for neuralgla and rheumatism, and it struck me very forcibly, as it did not claim to cure every complaint that flesh is heir to. I bought a bottle out the strength of what he said. That was all I needed. I used the one bottle over six months ago, and have not had one ache or pain from rheumatism since."

Mr. Hiram F. Sides, of Fort Branch, Ind., says of his wife's cure:

"Her suffering from nouralgia was interest and we concluded to try Athlophanos. Almost from the first dose I could see that she was improving, and two bottles officeated a permanent cure, so that she feels no effects of her ones dreaded disease. "THE Supreme Court Judges are jolly set among themselves." says a Chicago Mail Washington correspondent. "There are no lean, spare men mong them, except Bradley, and all of them boast well-fed stomachs and Burgundy complexions. Almost any night a majority of the bench can be found in an F street car, trundling along to their palatial residences in the West End. Whoever is lucky enough to ride with them can see what would be a sight of a lifetime to any one of millions of American citizens, when you think that out of 50,000,000 of people, prohably not over 2,000,000 have ever visited Washinglon. Chief Justice Waite, and Justices Miller. Matthews, and Blatchford will sit ranged along on one side of the car, and make it a special amuse mest for the trip to pass up faces. The Chief Justice and Justice Blatchford always keep a sharp eye on Stanley Matthews as the nickels pass him, and their comments rather reflect q in his integrity in the bandling of small nmounts of money. The other night i happened to ride up with thi. bunch of judges, and the incidents of the trip ware decidedly interesting. A small boy same into the car. While exercising his right to put in 3 cents instead of 5, on account of his infuncy, Judge Miller picked him up and pretended to desire to put him into the box as se-curity for the other 2 cents. Three times the car slopped to take on fut, shiny aid nogro women, ait of them laden with heavy market-baskets, filled with linen, and with each of thom the Objet Justice and Justice Blatchford competed for the honor of pausing up

THERE are men in the United States anota who have nothing to commend them but their money-bags, and who could never have got there without a liberal expenditure of their wealth. With such men to make the laws of the land, is it any wonder that monopolies

THE pension bill before congress appropriates 375,754,200, or about fifteen nillions more than was appropriated for the corrent year. This will seem strange to the innocent, oredulous unsuspecting epublican voters who have been made believe for years that if the democratic party was permitted to come into power the pensions of all the union soldiers would be stopped at once. What must they now think of the leaders of their party for thus deceiving them? A demoratic house of representatives is doing more for the soldiers, their widows and orphans than ever was done for them when the republicans had charge of governmental affairs.

To thoroughly cure scrofula it is necessary to strike directly at the root of the evil. This is exactly what Hood's Barsaparilla does, by acting upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing it of all impurities, and leaving not even a taint of scrofula in the vital fluid. Thousands who have been cured by Hood's Barsaparilla, testify to its wonderful blood purifying qualities. Sold by all druggists.

CURE FITS!

BY BEN: PERLEY POORE.

Gen. Grant was fond of a good horse. When a lad he had been noted as a successful breaker of colts, and his daring horsemanship in the riding school of his home on Georgetown Heights, a butcher's cart drawn by a gray horse came up alongside at a fast gait. The General spoke to his horse Cincinna tus, expecting easily to give the butcher's nag the go-by, but aithough they tried to "fight it out on that line," they were beaten in trotting one block and distanced before they reached the second cress street.

From that moment the conqueror of the Rebellion determined to own the horse that had out-trotted Cincinnatus, and a friend succeeded in purchasing him for $350. Thenceforth, instead of plodding along with a load of meat, the gray nag, christened Butcher Boy, was harnessed to the light wagon of Gen. Grant. It was while driving him one spring afternoon on the outskirts of Washington that the General was chased by two mounted policemen, stopped, and arrested for driving faster the law permitted. The next day he appeared at the station-house and paid the $10 fine imposed.

Gen. Grant's difficulty with Mr. Sumner began when the President did not consult the Scnatur bout the formation of his Cabinet. The breach was gradually widened, and in time the Senator become completely estranged from his old friend and associate in the Senate, Secretary Fish. When Mr. Motley was removed from the English mission he insisted upon regarding it as a personal insult, which regarding is as a personal ments, when he sought to repay by his opposition to the acquisition of San Domingo. Gen. Grant endeavored to appease the of-fended Senator, and on the evening of the day on which the San Domingo treaty was sent to the Senate, he called at Mr. Sumner's house. Gen. Grant found the Senator at his dinner-table with Col. Forney and the writer, and was invited to take a seat with them. After some preliminary conversation Gen. Grant began to talk about San Domingo, but he did not have the treaty or any memorandum of it with him. He dwelt especially upon the expenditures of Gen. Babcock San Domingo of a large sum taken from a secret service fund for promoting intercourse with the West India Islands, which Mr. Seward, when Secretary of State, had prevailed upon Bep-resentative Thad. Stevens to have inserted in an appropriation bill during the war, and the President impressed Mr. Summer with the idea that he feared an attack in Congress on the way much of that money had been spent.

Mr. Sumner unquestionably thought that Gen. Grant had come to enlist his services in defending the expenditure of Gen. Babcock of $100,000 in cash and $50,000 in a light battery purchased at New York. The President mount, as Col. Forney and the writer thought, the treaty for the acquisition of the Do-minican Republic. The President and the Senator misunderstood each other.

After a while Gen. Grant promised to send Gen. Babcock to call on the Senator the next day with copies of the papers, and left. As Mr. Sumner es-corted him to the door he told him that he was a Republican, and supported by a Republican administration, and that he should sustain the administration in its course if he possibly could after he had examined the papers. He meant the expenditure of Gen. Babcook, but the President meant the treaty.

The next morning Gen. Babcock called on Senator Sumner with a copy of the treaty, which he began to read, but he had not gotten beyond the preamble, in which Babcock was styled 'aide-de-camp of His Excellency Gen. Ulysses S. Grant," before Mr. Sum-ner showed signs of disapprobation. Whon Gen. Babcock proceeded and read the stipulation that "His Excellency Gen. Grant, President of the United States, promises perfectly to ise all his influence in order that the idea of onnexing the Dominican Republic to the United States may acquire such a degree of popularity among the members of Congress as will be necessary for its accomplishment," Senator for them in their dresses. I think it is a Sumnor became the enemy of the whole shame, too. They might let us girls President of the United States should be made a lobbyist to bring about annexation by Congress. Some of Mr. Summer's friends used to tell him that he should have gone at once to Gen. Grant and have told him that he should have friends used to tell him that he should have told him that he should lose a handlerchief. You see, George, nexation by Congress. Some of Mr. Summer's friends used to tell him that oppose the treaty, and that he had de-clared his hostility to it to Gen. Bab-cock in unmistaten terms. cock in unmistaken terms.

This was the time when well-meaning friends of both of these great men might have seemed satisfactory mutual explanation, although no living power could have made Senator Sumner a supporter of the acquisition of the port of Samana in San Domingo. In the Sonato sycophants who "curried water on both shoulders," and men who always delight in fomenting quarrels, embittored Mr. Sumner against the President. One had served his country well in the camp, while the other had performed equally invaluable services in the Senate; one was a statesman, the other was a soldier. What did not ap- mailton, REMINISCENCES OF PUBLIC pear to be wrong to the General, the MEN.

Senator regarded againminal. Conscious Senator regarded as criminal. Conscions of the value of his services in saving the Union, Gen. Grant accepted with gratitude the voluntary offerings of grateful citizens; but Senator Sumner, who had seen too much of political life and of politicians, knew too well that the military academy is even now those who make gifts to public men spoken of by the cadets with pride.

Driving into Washington one day from that every public man should be inflexibly opposed to the reception of presents. Remarks by him about the President, and remarks by the President about him, were carried to and fro by mischief-makers like the shuttle of a loom, and he found himself placed at the head of a clique of disappointed Republicans, who were determined to prevent, if possible, the reelection of Gen. Grant to the Presidency.

Henry Wilson, then Vice President of the United States, endeavored to restore harmony, and said in a letter to Gen Grant: "Your administration is Gen Grant: menaced by great opposition, and it must needs possess a unity among the people and in Congress. The head of a great party, the President of the United States has much to forget and to for give, but he can afford to be magnanimous and forgiving. I want to see the President and Congress in harmony, and the Republican party united and victorious; to accomplish this we must all be just, charitable, and forgiving.

"PATENT" FLOUR MAKING PROCESS The first suggestion of the improved plan originated with a French scientist. Mr. Lacroix, a manufacturer of Fari bault, Minnesola, first brought the idea to this country, but the process as originally used has been greatly improved upon by the millers of the northwest. There are, in fact, several processes but in principle they are identical. Chief objects sought are the gradual breaking and bruising of the grain so se to keep the broken particles rough and "alive;" the repeated reduction of the middlings, or that part of the grain lying immediately below the husk—this, formerly rejected, is now made to yield the best flour; also the separation of every part of the flour from the bran, and, finally, the careful blending of the flour obtained from the several

We give briefly the detail of the process in one of the Minnenpolis mills. The wheat, cleaned by blasts, is separated into lots of similar sizes; the fuzzy tails are removed by ending-stones The grain is then passed through corrugated, chilled iron rollers, their cor rugations ranging from eight to forty to the square inch, which bruise the grain without grinding it. This is on the ground floor. The bruised grain is then raised to the bolting machines, where it is passed through gauze-cloths of different textures, and thence sent down between finer corrugated rollers running nt a speed of from 160 to 300 revolutions per minute. These processes of reduction are repeated six or seven times, the third giving more flour than the first two reductions, and the fifth giving the best rising-flour and the richest in albuminoids.

Very important results have been a complished by the introduction of the "patent" process. The amount of flour yielded by a bushel of wheat has been increased fully 10 per cent; the flour made is said to be more nutritious, as well as more palatable, and spring wheat, the variety most abundantly produced in the west (whose flour, being much inferior to that of winter wheat made by the old process, was formerly held at a much lower price), is greatly increased in value, as by the "patent" process it is found to give the better flour .- Inter Ocean.

STEPPING HIGHER.

Mr. More Going to Wisconsin and Mr. Hayes Will Probably be Appointed Here.

Mr. D. F. More, who has held the position of secretary of the Railroad Young Men's Christian Association, in this city for a number of years, in fact, almost ever since it has been an organization has received a call to enter the regula-Y. M. C. A. work, as assistant secretary of the state of Wisconsin, with quarters at Milwaukee. His salary for the first year will $1,200, with bright chances for a raise the second. His salary here was $90 per month. Mr. More has the reputation of being one of the best organizers in the Y. M. C. A. work and it was the intention of the managers of that organization to only keep him here long enough to place this asso ciation on a firm basis. Our people are familiar with his work. He has built up the organization in this city until it stands equal with any railroad association in the United States. No association anywhere can boast of a greater average attendance. We are surry to loose Mr. More from our city. He has helped to turn the tide for a Christian work that is being felt in every part of our city. He is a man who is never afraid to stand up for Christ and His followers. He has labored hard with the railroad men and through his teachings and gospel meetings in their homes, many have been converted and are living a new life. and his good wife will always be remem bered in Fort Wayne. It is thought that Mr. Richard M. Hays, mail agent on the Muncie road, will be asked to take Mr. More's place. Mr. Hayes is well known by most of our people, and no better man could be placed in charge.

From a friend of Father Mark, it is learned that some time on Monday night sneak-thick entored the pastoral residence and stole 2575. The cash was in the clergyman's desk, and for a day or two he thought it best to say nothing about it. He was urged to take action however, and as Sheriff Nelson and his clever deputies have a clue it is probable they will bag the gentlemen who stole the sung bondle.

"Michael Strogoff."

"Michael Strogoff" company drew a large house at the Temple last evening. The play is one of heroism nd draws strongly upon the sympa thica of all. The battle scene and the burning of Irkutsk, with the hardships and triumphs of Michael Strogoff, delight an audience. The play itself is good and the drummer and drilled soldiers were very fine, but why the performance should be disgraced by the in traduction of a lot of honely looking ballet dancers, who appeared more for he purpose of showing their limbs than they did their acting, we can not understand. It seems that it requires something more than acting at this day, to draw a big crowd, and a low necked dress, cut off at the waist, is a better card than a high priced actor.

"A Mountain Pink."

"A Mountain Pink" was presented at the Academy last night. Miss Laura Dainty, in the title role, is central figure around which the play Her portrayal of the uneducated, simple, but noble Carolina girl-a wild flower growing in a barren desert—was as true to nature as it was oharming. Miss Dainty has surrounded herself with an excellent company. It would be flattery to call everyone a star, but the fact is undeniable that her support is better as a whole than that any other star who has appeared in this city this season. In this, Miss Dainty shows excellent judgment and good business tact. "A Mountain Pink" will be presented at each entertainment durng the week.

BOXLE IS FIXED.

The Murderer of Dan Casy Will The Shape of the Grand Rapids Remain in State's Prison for Life. The Indiana supreme court yesterday affirmed the decision of the Allen county circuit court in sentencing Wm. Boyle to the penitentiary for life, for murder. The case was once before in that court, Boyle having received the death sentence in the first trial, which was reversed above. The last appeal was on various technical points of law, and Judges Zollars and Mitchell dissented from the opinion, which was written by Judge Elliott. Messrs. Colerick & Oppenheim have heroically worked for their client, Boyle, and the fact that Judges Zollars and Mitchell are with them shows how near to success they were. Prosecutor Dawson, of course, feels prouds of his victory, and justly so, as his record is one of the cleanest and most successful in criminal the prosecuting history of Indiana. The decision is as follows: (1.) In a former opinion in this case it was held that pert of the dying declaration of the doceased, wherein, in replying to the question, "What reason, if any, had the man for shooting you?" he said, "Not any that I know of; he said any, had the man for shooting you?" he said, "Not any that I know of; he said he would shoot my damned heart ont," was not the expression of an incompetent opinion, but was a statement of a fact and was admissible in syidence. This ruling was adhered to. Zollars, J., dissents in an elaborate opinion, in which Mitchell, J., concurs. (2.) The accused, when on the witness stand, gave an account of his movements upon a day when on the witness stand, gave an ac-count of his movements upon a day named, and it was proper to go fully into subject upon cross examination and the state was not confined to the particular period of time designated in the ques-tions asked on direct examination. (3.) Instructions are to be considered as a whole, and thus construed there was ac-error. (4.) Orimes confessed by an acerror. error. (4.) Crimes confessed by an ac-cused on the stand may be considered as case on the stand may be considered as affecting his credibility. (5). The pros-coating attorney in his argument, said: "Will you believe this man who has told so many lies, and who has just seen the shadows of the gallows?" Held no error.

The above opinion is from Judges Elliott, Houk and Niblack and their decision sustains in every way the rulings of Judge Edward O'Rourke in this important trial. The Fort Wayns jurist is always olear in his points and the decisions of the high court tend to piace him on a level with the great judges of the state.
